EDM: ACTS & FACTS

Old times to come back. You remember cons in last century, when we had typewriters and mimeos. Everyfan went to it and put down his/her impressions. And during the night we printed. It's (nearly) the same here. This IS a typewriter, listen to the ringing at the end of a line and then Carriage Return. With two pages filled we will print.

Daisee:

Tech Crew is Awesome! And the rest of the con is not bad either :-)

Dave Lally:

We are pleased to announce we probably have an Eastercon bid for 2016-Manchester! More news at Bid session on Sunday.

Wilf James:

I have been away from Fandom for far too long. I have suffered a lot from depression after I was evicted from my Letchworth flat. I couldn't make any preparations to be here before today. Because I didn't feel too bad this morning I decided to come. I was already registered as a member so it was an easy decision to make. I have one advantage/disadvantage. It is a disabled badge which makes car parking easy.

Ian Watson:

Come to the Barcelona Eurocon Table just near Registration and we will give you a pretty pencil! Then come to beautiful Barcelona in 2016!!

Marcus Rowland:

First impressions - it would have been really useful to have had a list of the program items I'm on - I'll have to go through the programme to find them. I'm very glad I'm not a Vegan at this con, I don't think any of the cheap food choices would be OK!

Silke Lühr-Jacobsen:

It's my first Easter-Con and my second Trip to London.

I've met Wilf James, a good friend and more good friends like Ecki & Matthew.

See you....

Irena:

Greetings from Croatia! First time on Eastercon, people are great, the program is yet to start but everything is awesome! :)

3.zmaj (Rijeka) was here... ;)

Paul van Oven:

Another Eastercon partly dedicated to Sir Terry and Discworld. I am enjoying myself very much. My next con will be the Dutch Discworld convention Cabbagecon 3. Then Sasquan. This looks like a great year for conventions. Alles gut.

Ingo Rohlf:

My first Eastercon. Had a really nice first day. Interesting and fun panels. Especially the "Urban Fantasy" panel was much fun. And by the way, I had very too much of that Ale. Looking forward for the next day.

Sabine FURLONG:

Morning all,

just dropped off little boy in Creche at Eastercon and am on my way to the art show. Yesterday was a really good day and I saw at least 4 programme items. 2 of which I was on the panel for.

I think we got away with them. Especially the disaster management panel. Hubby can talk for England on that subject matter.

Today I am looking forward to Jim BUTcher's Guest of Honour Talk..

I am a big fan.

Talk to you tomorrow.

Tony Ballantyne:

Hello Old laptop, I used to have one just like you! Hello

Why doesnt the mouse work... And the Y and the Z are the wrong way around.

Christoph Luehr:

Yesterday "The ultimate Urban Fantasy" and today "Watching the Detectives" with some similar participants expecially Jim Buther. Jim is an entertaining talker, his mimic and speech got lots of laughter and claps. But the other writers told also very interesting and entertaining stories about their books and how and why they wrote them. They gave me reason for spend some money for their books which I don't know yet.

Jasper Rowe:

This is the first time I've ever attended the Easter Convention here. There is so much to see here and everyone is so friendly.

There is a distinct feeling of a shared common mindset here.

We're made to feel very welcome and look forward to the next one!

Cheers :-)

Matthew Kunkel:

The fourth time in Heathrow, but another consite. Some German fans are here, too. About eight. ;-)

One and a half days are gone: many panels, many talks, lots of fun.
