Ecki: Fifth day - too early
We had nice days here, now finished. But if not in America, we'll see one another in Dublin, which is the host of WorldCon 77. ConFact will be there, too, your impression-zine.
There's where fans say words for aeons.

Ralf Belling, Germany:
The last day ofthe Worldcon has arrived, way too early. I easily could go another week! Yesterday was my "Stalk the Astronaut"-day, went to three panels with GoH Kjell Lindgren. He talked about his pre-flight-preparation and showed his mission-film. The third panel was "Tall Tales of Science". He, Brother Guy and Penny(?) shared tales of their fellow Scientists, who tried their very best to blow up their Labs and harm their colleagues in the most hilarious way. My longest panel to-date - excluding the Hugo-ceremonies, of course - was the Babylon 5 Fan Meeting. Fans from all over the world came together and shared their best B5-moments and stories. In fact there were so many fans, we had to split up in several groups and chatted happily away. It was nice to see how many young fans are still discovering and loving the show.
Another very interesting panel was Arabic SF. Obviously, young Arabs have discovered SF in the last few years and are really diggin' into it. The panelists were three men with loud voices, which was good, because the sound system broke down 10 minutes into the panel. At the end of the day reality set in: People were warned about a severe thunderstorm outside. Silly me had heard the rumbling, but thought it was the testing of the soundsystem for the masquerade later :)

Peter Alsdorf (from Berlin, Club Andymon)
EDM takes the words to me: some lines from u and we have finished one page more ... Ok I will do that. Worldcon75 is my second con (1st was Den Haag in 1990 - the no 48) and I'm glad to be here, especially here in Helsinki. So many fans and stuff, so friendly people here in the country (I've seen so far) and from so much countries more.

Kristiina, Katariina & Sanna, Finland:

Moi! This con has been excellent and a lot of fun even with slight drama. In our humble opinion it has been quite fun to queue in line for the programs and meet new people and hang out together. We wish some of that in other worldcons as well.

See you in Dublin 2019 (maybe)!

Dave Lally, Ireland:

REMINDER-as well as Worldcon2019/Dublin (Thu 15-Mon 19 Aug), there is ONE WEEK LATER Eurocon2019/Belfast. And non Europeans are welcome at the latter (tho they of course cant vote therat) and -to add to the events- one can travel between the two Irish Con cities (160Km /100 miles apart) by the express train THE ENTERRISE!best DaveLally

Pascal Ducommun (Schweiz oder Suisse):

Au moins, le temps ... Amiens sera moins chaud qu'ici ... Helsinki... Enfin, esp,rons! A donc 2018 pour ceux qui me liraient.

Gino Lucrezi (Italy):

This is my first Worldcon, and I already feel like I have always been here! So many known faces from the Barcelona Eurocon, so many new friends I made and keep meeting.

I am sure this is going to be one of many Worldcons I attend!
